The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

'Welfare Corrupts' Says Expert

There may be some minor reforms in welfare during this election year — but don't count on much of it.

Welfare was originally designed for individuals in our society who genuinely need public assistance through no fault of their own. Few among us would deny them such assistance. For those able-bodied adults in our society living off the majority of us who are wage-earners, however, our sympathy comes to a screeching halt.

What does welfare really do to such persons?

And what does it do to a society that fosters lax handouts as a substitute for economic growth and real job opportunities?

These questions were met head-on recently in Washington when social philosopher Irving Kristol, a professor at Washington University, spoke at a welfare conference. The conference, reported by the U.S. Press Assn., was sponsored jointly by the American Enterprise Institute and Stanford University's Hoover Institution.

Kristol explained that New York City has abolished poverty, statistically, with a welfare family of four in that city now receiving $7,000 annually in cash and in-kind transfers such as food stamps, medicaid, and subsidized housing.

"So why hasn't anyone noticed?" Kristol asked.

"The reason for the paradoxical situation in New York City is that, for the non-aged and non-infirm, the way in which you abolish poverty turns out to be more important than whether you statistically abolish it," he said.

"What we have rediscovered in New York," Kristol continued, "is (that); dependency tends to corrupt, and absolute dependency corrupts absolutely."

Kristol, who is also a journalist and author of numerous articles, says New York's welfare population in general, though no longer impoverished, "has sunk to various depths of social pathology." It is a "demoralized population, with higher rates of crime, alcoholism, drug addiction, juvenile delinquency and teen-age pregnancy than before the high benefits.

"We have redistributed income in New York all right, but it has not helped the poor one bit," said Kristol.

His answer to the welfare dilemma is one we cannot argue with: Instead of welfare handouts, which tend to kill both self-initiative and self-pride, government and society should concentrate on give the private sector the freedom and incentives necessary to extend business and create jobs.

Furthermore, government should remove the able-bodied from welfare rolls, and force them onto the job rolls.

CB Offender Causes Death

Citizen band radio operators are among the nation's most helpful group — except one.

One CB'er, in or near Longmont, Colorado on May 7, deliberately "jammed" a radio emergency call for help, it was reported.

In response to a "10-33" — emergency call for help — some heartless and irresponsible individual responded "Shut up and get off the air." Then, according to other CB operators in the area who tried to help, the offender started "dumping his carrier" — keying his microphone in such a way as to knock out the emergency signals. Even Channel 9, the nationwide emergency call channel, was jammed by the carrier-thrower.

As a result, an ambulance with a paramedic and emergency cardiac equipment arrived half an hour later than it could have. By that time, the victim, "Lonesome" Cecil Curtis, a retired policeman and himself a CB operator, was dead of a heart attack.

Citizen Band radio-transmitter-receivers have become enormously popular in the last two years. Thousands of applications for licenses to operate are flooding the office of the FCC. After granting Mrs. Gerald Ford with a "quickie" license to operate, and as a result of protests that all others should be granted similar treatment, the government has been sending out such licenses virtually automatically.

But the time is here for cracking down. Those with criminal records, known psychopaths (as the above mentioned individual certainly must have been) and others who misuse the privileges of citizen band airwaves should not be granted or allowed to hold licenses. Not at the cost of even one human life.

Contract Awarded for School Yard Landscape Improvement

The Lemon Grove School District accepted the bid of $14,800 for a grounds improvement project for Lemon Grove Jr. High at a special governing board meeting last week.

T. B. Penick & Sons, Inc. was low bidder on the project.

It will include the removal of a concrete retaining wall, regrading of the grounds to street level at the corner of School ln. and Lincoln, completion of a sidewalk around the school block, development of a grass and shrub area and addition to the parking lot.

The project is on the former site of the old Lemon Grove School, a 52-year old structure which was demolished this year.

The building has been condemned as structurally unsafe for earthquake impact and was placed out of service as a classroom building in the 1950s. It had been used as a storage facility by the school district until this year.

The lack of sidewalk and the high concrete wall had been considered a safety hazard by school officials, although no serious mishaps have occurred at the site.

CoC Meets July 22

The "Closed for Vacation" sign on the door of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is evidence that Glenda Jackson, CoC manager is living the good life for three weeks—probably far away.

The office will reopen August 2.

Meanwhile, the regular monthly meeting of the chamber's board of directors will be held on the fourth Thursday as usual—noon at Scandia, Broadway and Kempf st. on July 22, according to president Bob Guest.

While the chamber meeting is for directors, any person who wants to discuss a community matter with the chamber is welcome to attend.

LG Boundary OK'd by LAFCO Board

By John Kowalczyk

The Lemon Grove city movement is back on track now that the Local Agency Formation Commission has given its blessing to the would-be city's boundaries.

After less than an hour of public testimony — only four citizens spoke — the commission approved the immediate north extremity of Freeway 94 as both the north boundary for the proposed city and La Mesa's new southern border if its annexation election is successful.

The machinery now turns toward the Board of Supervisors which is expected to approve a November annexation election for La Mesa and a March 1977 incorporation election for Lemon Grove.

County Counsel has made a recommendation that Lemon Grove include Vista La Mesa and American Homes-Spring Valley Highlands tracts if La Mesa fails to annex these in November. Rolando, a third area La Mesa is trying to annex, would be excluded from Lemon Grove, regardless of the election results, it was announced Monday.

Of the four citizens who spoke to the commission, three agreed with the boundaries as they are now drawn.

The only words of opposition came from Daryel Stager, chief of the Spring Valley Fire Department.

Stager restated his Fire District's concern over the loss of Blossom Hill, a partially completed subdivision north of Mt. Miguel High School which will be detached from the Spring Valley Fire Protection District if Lemon Grove incorporates.

He said the assessed value of the property now stands at $500,000, but when fully developed will be worth nearly $1 million in assessed value, or about $10,000 in tax revenue lost to Lemon Grove.

Stager reported a survey of people living in the area showed that of 58 people asked, 26 said they preferred to remain in the Spring Valley Fire District. Only three said they preferred to switch to the Lemon Grove Fire District,

Stager was preceded by Jack Doherty, a Blossom Hill resident who claims 34 of 39 resident property owners requested they be included within the proposed city of Lemon Grove.

Also speaking at the hearing were David Kuhfal, a Rolando resident in favor of Rolando-Rolando Knolls annexation to La Mesa, and King Milligan, Vista La Mesa resident who leads a drive to annex his unincorporated area to La Mesa.

100 Burglaries Said Solved Following Arrest of Three

A pair of detectives assigned to the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office uncovered a trail which led to untangling nearly 100 recent burglary cases and recovering stolen items worth in excess of $100,000.

The detectives are deputies Doug Henderson and Florence Helms.

The break came when a burglary was reported in the 8500 block of Palm st. in Lemon Grove early in the afternoon of June 28.

A witness, suspicious of a strange vehicle in the community, made a note of the license number of the pickup truck later identified as one used in many of the crimes. The number was transmitted to the sheriff's office.

The trail led through three used car dealers to one of the suspects. Three persons were arrested — one a female.

Arraigned in El Cajon Municipal court were Justus Bruce, 23, and Sidney Dwight Duckworth, 29, white males who live on G st. in National City. The white female arrested later was Sherry Ann Jones, 23, of Manchester st., San Diego.

Bruce was charged with 5 counts of burglary; Duckworth 3 counts and Jones one count of burglary and one count each of receiving stolen property.

In addition to being accused of burglarizing numerous Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residences, thefts were also reported to have been committed in Jamul, Alpine, La Mesa, Del Cerro, San Carlos, Bonita, National City and San Diego.

Most of the burglaries associated with the trio were earlier recorded on police records in various jurisdictions.

Items the trio are accused of taking included TVs, stereos, tools, musical instruments, meat, microwave ovens, shotguns, rifles, cash, cameras, jewelry, tape decks and binoculars.

Free ID for Area CB Radios

A program to identify CB units and to aid in recovery of stolen units will get underway Saturday at all sheriff's stations, including the Lemon Grove Station on Broadway near Imperial, according to Sheriff John F. Duffy.

"Volunteer reserve deputies and explorer deputies will be at each station to engrave the owner's driver's license number on their CB unit," Duffy said.

A regular detective will also be on hand to insure that stolen CB units are not engraved with someone else's identification, he said.

The volunteers will donate their services from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Sheriff Duffy said it is an extension of the "County Mounties" program in which sheriff's detective cars are being equipped with donated CB units, primarily to deter CB thefts and to aid in recovery of stolen property.

At Lemon Grove the engraving will be done in the parking lot in front of the station at 7859 Broadway, with Detective Doug Henderson in charge.

Runners-up in Supervisor's Race Pick John Ortman for Write-in

A write-in campaign for supervisor in the 2nd Supervisorial District, sponsored by candidates who lost, was announced at a press conference at Anthony's Grossmont Grotto.

14 of the 20 candidates entered in the June primary are said to be backing the write-in election of John Ortman, operator of Farrell's Ice Cream Parlours.

Ortman polled 4,192 votes in the primary (4.6%). The two successful candidates who face a run-off in the general election are Lucille Moore (15,041-16.7%) and Walt Kenrick (16,624-18.4%).

The write-in decision was announced by Ike Huyser (3,116-3.4%) who named Pete Cuthbert (2,153-2.4%) as campaign chairman.

Cuthbert said 6 of the original 20 candidates were not in the group which is sponsoring Ortman. Those include Moore and Kenrick as well as third-runner Stan Boney (10,967-12.2%).

Art Green (9,098-10.1%), Bill Faulwetter (7,599-8.4%), and Judy Evans (1,266-1.4%) are not committed, Cuthbert said.

Abstentions High

Huyser said 15% (16,000) of the 106,000 persons who voted in the primary failed to vote for any candidate and that only one candidate polled more than 16,000 votes (Kenrick).

"Those who did not vote (16,000) hold considerable power," Huyser noted. "Voters do not have an adequate choice in November . . . the two nominees are not representative of the concerns and interests of the people of District 2 . . . so we . . . have an obligation to provide an alternative."

Huyser said a search among the June candidates showed John Ortman to be the best qualified.

Write-in meetings will be held every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the conference room at 8080 La Mesa blvd. in La Mesa, Cuthbert said.

Persons who would serve as campaign manager for the Ortman write-in are being interviewed by the committee.

Burglar's Loot $780

A suspect's name was given to sheriff's deputies after Francis Michael Witchey was burglarized of items he valued at $780 on July 1.

Witchey, who lives at 10235 Madrid way, Spring Valley, listed a movie camera, a polaroid camera and a steamer chest of household items among the loot.

Grove Bank Robbery Foiled

The FBI took into custody in San Diego Wednesday two black women — one of whom is suspected of attempting to hold-up the Lemon Grove Bank of America at noon Tuesday.

The other is suspected of having robbed Gibraltar Savings and Loan at Broadway and College on May 29.

In the attempt Tuesday, the suspected robber held a printed note against the bank's drive-in window and showed the teller a bag which appeared to have a pistol in it.

The teller stepped out of view and notified the bank supervisor at which time the suspect fled. No money was obtained.

Fire Service Changes in Back County

Fire protection service changed this month for residents living in the county's unincorporated areas which do not have their own tax-levying fire district.

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley both have fire departments, financed through property tax doles.

But back county areas and others as near as Vista La Mesa are outside the bounds of local fire protection agencies. Until July 1, these areas have been protected by the California Division of Forestry under special contracts with the County.

The County discontinued the CDF contracts July 1.

Back county areas have been forming volunteer fire departments with financial backing, training and assistance furnished by the County. Eighteen stations and 27 engines are now at the ready for structural fire fighting in back county areas such as Jamul and Pine Valley, east of Spring Valley.

Residents living in that area would be wise to jot down the following phone number: 442-3443.

That connects the caller with the City of El Cajon Fire Dispatch, the coordinator for all the back county fire service.

The El Cajon dispatch will call on either the local volunteer fire fighters, County Sheriff's men or the California Division of Forestry to answer the call.

VLM Fire Service

In Vista La Mesa, it's a different story.

Until Lemon Grove incorporation and La Mesa annexation officials came to an agreement about the proposed north boundary of the city of Lemon Grove, Vista La Mesa residents, outside of both Lemon Grove and La Mesa Fire Departments, faced a situation after July 1 which would have left them without fire protection.

But La Mesa Fire Protection District agreed in late June to extend interim fire protection to that area at least until the end of the year.

A couple "ifs" are built into the service, however, according to a spokesman for the La Mesa Fire Department.

If voters in Rolando, Vista La Mesa and the American Homes, Spring Valley Highlands areas turn down a ballot bid to annex to La Mesa — expected on the November ballot — La Mesa will cease its free fire service. It would end on December 31, 1976.

If voters approve the annexation, Vista La Mesa will continue to receive interim protection until March 1977, when annexation would take effect.

Interchange Opens; First Wreck Follows

It didn't take long to christen the new Highway 94 spaghetti works at Spring st. and Campo rd.

The eastbound section of the $11 million freeway interchange was opened to traffic around mid-day, July 6. (Westbound lanes opened for rush hour earlier that morning.)

At 2:15 a truck, hauling a vehicle on a fork lift, began to wobble just beyond the eastbound ramp near the Bancroft dr. overpass, according to CHP accident investigator Lloyd Needham.

The wobble caused the truck and load to overturn tying up traffic on the new section of freeway until CHP officers could clear the mess.

The truck was driven by an employee of Christian Lenter Roofing Co. of Orange, Ca. He was not injured.

Trace of Rain

Raindrops were falling on various parts of San Diego but in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley it was measured only as a "trace."

The trace moistened the terrain between 7 and 8 a.m. Monday—but was not considered measurable.

None-the-less it was the first dampening of the new season which begins annually on July 1. Last year the first moisture fell in September so the area is a "trace" ahead.

'Cuyamaca' is Name of G'mont 2nd College

"Cuyamaca College" is the name which members of the Grossmont College governing board agreed to bestow upon the new two-year institution planned for Spring Valley.

Board members selected "Cuyamaca" out of a list of about 20 at its meeting last week.

The name was picked for its esthetic sound, its geographic and Mexican-Indian reference, among other reasons, according to Bev Powell, secretary to the superintendent Robert Burnham.

Cuyamaca is the name of the mountain range east of Spring Valley which was given by an Indian tribe of the same name, she said.

The $40 million campus will be located west of the Cottonwood Golf Course and south of Highway 94.

It will be developed as the vocational-technical arm of the Grossmont College District service.

The first phase, due to begin construction in the fall, is expected to open to 3,400 students in 1978.

Bob Guest Heads E. County UW/CHAD

Robert L. Guest, vice president of Crocker Bank in Lemon Grove, has been moved up to chairman of the 1976 East County area United Way/CHAD Combined Campaign.

In his new position, Guest will represent East County as an associate chairman on the county-wide United Way/CHAD campaign cabinet.

His appointment was announced by C. Joseph Crane, senior vice president and district branch administrator of Crocker Bank. Crane will lead the annual county-wide campaign which raises operating funds for a hundred health and human care agencies which in the course of a year reach one of every three San Diego County residents.

Guest was recruited by Vincent Ciruzzi, manager of Sears, Roebuck and Company of El Cajon, who serves as nominating committee chairman of the 1976 East County campaign.

The East County campaign, which kicks off September 14 at Carlton Oaks Country Club in Santee is expected to top the $263,450 raised by the 1975 East County drive.

Guest is a veteran United Way / CHAD volunteer. He served as East County area chairman in 1973, Lemon Grove community chairman in 1972 and automotive trades chairman in 1966.

A navy veteran, he is active in Boy Scouts of America, Rotary Club, the Masonic Order, Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, and Fletcher Hills Presbyterian Church.

Thren is Victim

A thief jimmied a door of the office of Dan Thren Realty, 7366 Broadway, Lemon Grove, during the night of June 29, Thren reported to sheriff's deputies.

Among the loot reported missing were two wall clocks, a radio and a typewriter.

Thren listed his loss at $625.

The Tel-Med number is 560-8500. Ask for tape number 299.

Housing Starts Up; Most are Apartments

Housing starts in California increased sharply in May to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 188,000 units, according to Bank of America.

The total is a 23 per cent increase above the April starts and a 50 per cent increase from the same period last year.

Most of the gain was in apartment projects, bank economists said. The number of housing units authorized by building permits actually declined slightly in May. But, they added, the bank still projects total starts for the year up from 160,000 to 170,000 units.

Eat and Grow Younger

Nerve Jangles and Jitters Stem From Certain Dietary Deficiencies

By Lelord Kordel

Jittery nerves in a woman do not please a man, regardless of what youthful charms she may possess. Although a young girl or a woman in her 20s or 30s, may get by without much poise and with nervous gestures that irritate the onlooker, the older she grows the more these undesirable nervous habits detract from the charm of a woman who wishes to retain an illusion of youth past her 40th birthday.

Healthy nerves are fully as necessary in a man. Yet I choose to address this chapter directly to you women, although what I say to you holds equally good for the nervous system in past-40 male bodies.

A planned diet can give you the healthy nerves so vital to the charm and poise of a lovely woman. Notice, please that I said a planned diet, and not a "starvation" diet. The nervous system that is starved of protein and fat has no other choice than to become "jittery."

An indifferent diet, or a starvation reducing diet that neglects proteins and natural fats, is a diet designed to give you the unwelcome gift of jangled nerves.

Important Influence

Diet has a direct, and very important influence on your nerves and your disposition. Elimination of an important high-protein food from your diet, for no reason other than it has "too many calories," means depriving your body of several vitally necessary food elements.

To illustrate: the high protein and natural-fat foods such as cheese, milk, meat, eggs, and seed cereals are also rich sources of thiamine (vitamin B-1), known to nutritional science as the "nerve vitamin."

The older you grow, the more thiamine your body needs.

If your nervous symptoms indicate the need of extra thiamine in your diet, by all means use a thiamine concentrate, but under no circumstances neglect the foods rich in the B-vitamins. Your body is unable to store large amounts of thiamine, so ample quantities of this vitamin must be supplied in the everyday diet.

We have also learned that when vitamin A is scarce enough in the diet to cause nutritional eye disorders, an accompanying symptom is a nervousness and general fatigue that interferes with personal contentment and efficiency.

Need Rich Blood

Without blood that is kept young — that, rich with red coloring matter — along with the rest of your physical and mental organism, your efforts to remain a radiantly healthy, young-looking person are doomed to fail almost at the outset. For the blood is your body's "carrier system." In order to dispatch renewed youthfulness to all other parts of your body, you must first make certain that your carrier system is in A-1 working order.

It's only when the blood is youthfully red and healthy that it can impart to your body — the outer you — all the desirable appearances of a prolonged youth; fresh complexion, naturally red lips and naturally pink fingernails.

Iron is widely advertised as the mineral responsible for the redness of your blood, and this is true. Yet iron is not the only mineral needed to combat anemia. Copper, too, is necessary before the iron can go to work. Iodine is still another mineral concerned with keeping blood up to its normal richness. When too little iodine is obtained through your meals, the bone marrow (the red blood cell factory) cannot produce enough red corpuscles, even though both iron and copper are plentiful in the list of minerals essential for "feeding" the blood.

Although men can become anemic the same as women for lack of these food elements in their diets, women are far more susceptible to anemia than men. The reason for this is largely attributable to their periodic loss of blood without restoring the valuable supplies of body iron lost each month.

Again the problem of digestion enters the picture, especially for the person past 40. Since iron dissolves only in acid—the same as protein and calcium can only be digested by acid) — it is important to make sure that the hydrochloric acid in your stomach juices is strong enough to handle the iron in the food you eat. Any food containing acids, such as buttermilk, sour milk, yogurt, cottage cheese citrus fruits, apples and other tart fruits, aids the body in absorbing iron.

Blood Builders

The four foods in order, that produce for you the most hemoglobin are liver, kidney, apricots and egg yolk.

Meat contains lots of iron, yet not all of it is available for use in the body. For instance, your body can absorb no more than 50 per cent of the iron contained in muscle meats such as lean beef and lamb; 70 per cent of the iron in liver (in spite of the fact that liver produces more hemoglobin than any other known food); and 80 per cent from heart.

This does not mean that meats are not excellent sources of iron, for they most certainly are. What it does mean is that you cannot count on assimilating all the iron contained in meats — even though the published food charts may look very impressive to you!

Next: Sleep is real rejuvenator. How good diet helps you sleep better. Why too much salt is unwise.

School District Levies 5-Cent Tax For Central Kitchen Layout

Lemon Grove School District residents were levied a 5-cent tax recently to complete a major school kitchen renovation project.

The kitchen, at Lemon Grove Jr. High, serves the entire district.

The governing board approved the five cents per $100 assessed value, a designated permissive override tax, at a June meeting. The action is allowable without voter approval.

The expenditures, authorized by the state, are restricted by law to either remodeling kitchen facilities or to the free and reduced price meal program. Nearly 1,000 students in the district are entitled to free or reduced price lunches.

The tax will take in an expected $37,000, according to Superintendent Dr. Robert Sutton. He said the plan is to keep the override for just one year.

In addition to the tax levy, the district received a grant of $26,000 from the state for the project to centralize all kitchen facilities at the junior high school.

The kitchen, under direction of Ruth Pfister, prepares food for lunches at all six elementary and two junior high schools and is contracted to cook hot meals for the senior citizens' nutrition projects in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

Remodeling costs include a new truck to transport the food, a new exhaust hood, electrical upgrading equipment, two ovens and a boiler-steamer kettle combination. Other segments of the improvement project include sinks and counters and additional equipment.

Last year, the school board installed two large walk-in freezers at the site to replace a smaller walk-in freezer system.

The hood is the major expense, according to the school district's chief accountant Leona Bowersox. It is expected to cost about $18,000.

Lemon Grove School officials expect to receive a total of $63,000 from both the state grant and the tax override. The improvements to the kitchen are expected to cost less than $50,000, but any funds left over are to be held in the reserve fund to be used only for additional kitchen remodeling or for the discount and free meal program.

Fabric Care Tips

Keep Perfume On the Body, Off Clothing

Although you may be tempted to sprinkle a little of your favorite fragrance on your clothing — don't. Perfumes and colognes can cause permanent damage.

The alcohol content will affect some fabrics and many dyes. You could end up with color loss, permanent stains or water rings. And you'll probably get a disagreeable odor as the fragrance ages. Men should be careful not to splash after-shave or cologne on clothing.

Also, read the directions before putting sachets, potpourri or fragrant crystals in your dresser drawer. Some may cause damage if they're in direct contact with your clothing.

Moth crystals can be equally hazardous to your wardrobe. In one case, a woman liberally applied moth crystals to clothing in a storage trunk before closing it for the summer.

When she opened it in the fall, all of her clothes had pink spots where moth crystals had touched the fabrics. She hadn't read the directions, which specifically warned against putting the crystals directly onto clothing.

Another similar hazard is the cleaning rag — which is stuck in the closet or clothes hamper until laundry day. Where there is little or no air circulation, vapors from some household cleaning compounds will eat holes in fabrics even over a short period of time.

Bike-a-Thon to Aid Local Lung Groups

A "Bike-A-Thon" covering 458 miles throughout Southern California will be sponsored as a benefit for local Lung Assns. by the Independent Order of Foresters.

Ron Howard, star of the hit TV program, "Happy Days," and star in the new film, "Eat My Dust," has accepted the honorary chairmanship for the event scheduled for August 21 through 29.

The course starts at Sepulveda Dam Sports and Recreation Center, Encino, City of Los Angeles, and goes through various areas of Los Angeles County, also Orange, San Bernardino, and San Diego Counties, finishing back in Los Angeles.

Each community will have one rider as its representative, with funds being raised through merchants and individuals contributing an amount of money per mile. Prizes including a trip to Hawaii for two, will go to the three top money raisers.

Local riders will accompany the group the first 10 miles and help raise funds on a mileage basis. Local contact is 297-3901.

OFFICER — Arlene Armendarez, a student at Monte Vista High and resident of Spring Valley, was elected to an office during the Girls State activities, held recently in Sacramento under sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary.
High achieving high school juniors are selected for the annual self-governing convention each year. Armendarez' trip and that of five other girls were sponsored by the La Mesa American Legion Auxiliary.

Local Bus Service Cut on Sundays

Several changes in week-end bus schedules was announced by the S.D. Transit Corp.

Overall, several holiday and Sunday schedules have been cut back or dropped.

On shopping holidays, such as Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day, schedules will be changed to coincide with center shopping hours.

On other holidays, the schedules will be reduced in keeping with the light transit travel.

Effecting local riders is the Sunday discontinuance of route 36 which operates from 70th st. and El Cajon blvd. to La Presa via State University, College Grove center and Lemon Grove.

New schedules are available for the changed operation from the transit firm.

NORTON POWER — It was the beginning of the end for Larry Middleton in his 10-round scrap with Ken Norton, top contender for Muhammad Ali's heavyweight crown. Norton's awesome power was unleashed late in the fight when Norton caught Middleton with his guard up and smashed a left into his ribs. A pile-driver right is aimed at Middleton's stomach. Norton won a technical knockout when Middleton was unable to defend himself in the 10th round. Referee Rudy Jordan stopped the fight with 53 seconds to go.

Car-Bash Added to Cajon Speedway Card

Larry Hageman of Lakeside, a 32-year old service station owner displaced El Cajon's Ron Esau as leading SCRA point-holder in the weekly competition at the Cajon Speedway.

He took the lead Saturday without scoring a single main event victory.

Hageman picked up valuable passing points last week and now leads second place by 20—1,135 to 1,115.

Esau, driving a borrowed car after failing to qualify his own for the main, crashed on the third lap after adding only 10 points to his total.

A mere 55 points separate the new leader from a tied fourth place. Lanny Pemberton of Lemon Grove and Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley each have 1,100 points in the battle for fourth. Ron Overman, of El Cajon, who failed to qualify last week dropped to third with 1,135.

Powder Puffers

Last week in the Powder Puffer, Barbara Baxter of El Cajon strengthened her hold on first place by beating Debbie Swiman of Santee on the 10th and final lap. Holly Stahl of Chula Vista was third.

It's super stocks again Saturday with a Destruction Derby as an added attraction. Steve Luffe of El Cajon won the first two car-bashes while Junior Raguindin of San Diego took the third.

Trophy dash Saturday is 8 p.m. Time trials for more than 60 cars begin at 6:30 p.m.

Jr. World Golf Is Stepping Stone

The Junior World Golf Championships, which will have their ninth run at five courses here July 27-30, has proved to be a stepping stone to outstanding pro and amateur golf careers.

Several pros , members of the PGA and Ladies PGA, have been champions in the Junior World, which annually draws up to 610 youngsters from the U. S. and as many as 29 foreign nations.

American boys and girls who have gone on to pro careers include Louise Bruce, Jane Renner, Billy Brask, Craig Stadler, Morris Hatalsky, Denise Bebernes, Amy Alcott, Laura Baugh and Jack Renner.

Foreign players have done particularly well in the major 15-17 age division, considering they make up only about a tenth of the field.

The 15-17 champions since the tournament started in 1966 have included Dale Hayes, now a leading foreign pro, of South Africa; Nicholas Price, Rhodesia; Suzanne Cadden, a Scottish girl who has been a member of Great Britain's Curtis Cup team, and Anne-Marie Palli of France.

The tournament again will be played at the two Torrey Pines courses and at Presidio Hills, Mission Bay and Balboa Park. JW executive director Norrie West said the entry list has hit 326, including about 45 from 18 foreign countries.

National qualifying continues in the 15-17 group under PGA sponsorship. Leading San Diego PGA chapter qualifying at Cottonwood Monte Vista were Bob Hakes, 69 on the par 72 course, and Suzy Shultz, 77.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Actually, it's very embarrassing. Playing golf with juniors. Especially with young juniors.

It's one thing to get beat at golf, which is supposed to be a full sized man's game, by another grownup, but when a tinimite in the 10-and-under division of the Junior Golf crowd comes along and whips your best score to a standstill, then it's time to either quit playing or quit playing with kids.

Maybe golf courses ought to establish hours where only dads could tee up and kids wouldn't be allowed to go along and laugh. Believe me, it's a cruel, haunting clamor to hear your kid's giggle responding to your missed pitch or pushed putt.

Of course, you forgive them. Sometimes I only stay blistering angry for a couple of hours. Even the worst attacks are usually gone by the following morning.

The part that hurts is not only do they know how it should be done, they have the almighty gall to tee up and show you.

Now, remember, none of this is directed at the nearly full sized teenagers that purr along in the 15-17 age bracket, busting pars and knockin' down birdies as natural as breathing.

One expects to get knocked wedge over spoon by that bunch. Look at the likes of Scott Simpson, just barely past junior competition and now out in the world taking pleasure in whippin' everybody in sight.

Scott was honored last Tuesday at a big banquet in New York City as the 1976 Collegiate Golfer of the Year. He is also the SCAA Champion and the number one man of the 1976 All-American Golf Team.

Now, that's not bad for a youngster that believes college is a place for learnin' and studies hard enough to carry a 3.459 grade average on USC's 4.0 scale. No matter how you look at it, that's plum some doings.

And when the likes of Scott, or his brother and fellow Trojan teammate Dave, or Joe Flood or Craig Stadler happen along one of the local courses where they sharpened their game to match points in junior competition and they beat your brains out, you don't feel bad about it. You feel kind of honored they teed up with such duffers as us.

But when you come down past these former juniors and senior division juniors, even past the 13-14 and 11-12 age groups and see how you could get blown out by Johnny Colborne, Bobby Barrett, Richard Duffy or Oran Brown, none of whom is yet 11, then you have to realize golf is not your game. Not the way they play it. They show you. It's their game.

Last week a Junior Golf tournament was played at Presidio Hills for the Tinimite division. Johnny Colborne won it with a 55. Count 'em folks, that's one over par.

Oran Brown, who figures he ought to win every time he tees up and usually does, posted a three over par in an earlier tourney to take his umpteenth crown.

Bobby Barrett seems to grow in skill before your very eyes. Richard Duffy may be the most unflappable youngster ever to swing a club. If he gets mad at a bad bounce or a missed shot, you never know it. He just gives the next one all the attention it deserves and gets on with it.

There are others, of course. Kids from all over the county. Keith Earle, Jim Zamora, John Rowean, Chris Leong, Scott Rones . . . and the list goes on. All excellent golfers. And all 10 or younger.

John Rowean is a typical example. During last week's tourney at Presidio Hills, he took a practice swing and knocked his ball off the tea.

He never said a word. There was no excuse. He just picked up his tee and hit his SECOND shot where it lay. There's not a golfer on the pro-tour that wouldn't have been proud of him. Johnny Rowean and his friends add a considerable something to the game.

They'll all be teeing up Friday afternoon at Colina Park in the 18th annual Coronado-Cubic Corp. Golf shindig. Galleries are not allowed during junior competition (except for the 15-17 crowd), but if you're interested you can see most of the action from the club house. Soo, come on out.

You'll hate 'em, but you'll love 'em. You'll see. They're embarrassing.

Friars Host Boston in First Bet-a-Ticket Game

The San Diego Friars are not on the road forever. It only seems that way.

The team still has to visit Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Phoenix before returning to the Sports Arena July to face Boston. That will complete an eight-match road swing that started out as a trip but now must seem more like an eternity.

The management is guaranteeing a victory over Boston, for if the Friars should lose every fan in attendance lose, every fan in attendance to the following night's match.

But one should never question the character of this squad. The team's last stand in the Sports Arena is testimony enough.

Playing against Cleveland, which the night before had whipped mighty Phoenix, and with its chief threat, Rod Laver, absent, the Friars fell behind, recovered, went ahead, had the match just about won, then just about lost, and finally triumphed with classic style.

"I'd say it would have to be one of the most satisfying victories of the season," was the way player-coach Cliff Drysdale reflected on the 29-27 win.

Drysdale was a significant architect of the victory. His win over Marty Riessen, 6-2, was a masterpiece.

"I think this team will wind up a lot stronger than most people believe possible," he said.

32nd. Lassie Stakes On Tap at Hollypark

Championships in the juvenile filly and sophomore colt divisions will be at stake when Hollywood Park presents the next-to-last weekend of the 1976 thoroughbred racing season.

Saturday, the Inglewood track will renew the estimated $100,000 Hollywood Lassie Stakes for the 32nd time, while the following afternoon, Sunday, the Cinema Handicap will have its 30th running, but its first as a $100,000 event.

Wavy Waves, whose awesome stretch burst in the recent Cinderella Stakes stamped her as a future star, figures to be a solid choice in the six-furlong Lassie.

The Sunday Sweep Handicapping contest on Cinema Handicap day will carry a $20,000 bonus jackpot and that amount will go to the person who can tab all nine winners on his official entry blank.

Cards, Cubs and Phillies Fill 7 Home Dates at Stadium

Three members of the National League's Eastern Division will be on the bill of fare for the San Diego Padres as the club prepares for its next to last home stand against Eastern opposition for the season.

The Padres, coming off three days of rest for the All-Star break, will get the ball rolling again by hosting the St. Louis Cardinals on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The opening two games of the series will get underway at 7 p.m. while the finale on Saturday will go at 1 p.m.

That Saturday starting time is a departure from the normal 7 p.m. opening and will mark the first time since the early days of the franchise that the club has played a home Saturday afternoon contest. The affair will also be Central Federal Jacket Day with vinyl jackets going to the first 30,000 youngsters 14 years of age and under.

The $10,000 cash scramble will be an added attraction at tonight's game.

The event will be held to mark the breaking of the one million barrier in attendance for the third consecutive season. The club will enter the evening with a total of just over 980,000. The Padres still have 33 home dates remaining in 1976 so the club record of 1,281,747 set last season appears in serious jeopardy.

As in the past, 20 lucky fans will be chosen via ticket stubs or registration coupons to scramble for the $10,000. Five fans from each of the Field, Plaza, Press-Loge and General Admission sections will be selected and will have 90 seconds to gather up all the money they can from the infield area. The highlight, of course, will be the search for the big $1,000 bill.

Cubs and Phillies

After the trio with the Cardinals, the Padres will round out the stand with short two-game series with the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies. The Cubs will be in town for July 18-19 encounters beginning at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m., respectively, while the Phillies will close things out July 20-21 at 7 p.m. and 1 p.m. The homestand finale with the Phils will be the last Business Special of the year, hence the afternoon starting time.

The homestand will then be briefly interrupted by two games up in Los Angeles against the Dodgers July 22-23, but the Padres will be back in action at home against L.A. on Saturday-Sunday, July 24-25 before heading out on a long road swing.

"You have to look at the beginning of play after the All-Star break much like you do the opening of the season," commented San Diego field manager John McNamara. "Just like when play first begins, it's important to get off on the right foot with some wins under your belt. We had a low point just before the break when we didn't play well so it's doubly important for us to find the winning combination and attitude again."

Three Features Scheduled In July for S.D. Breakers

Three special events have been carded by the managerial revitalized IVA San Diego Breakers Volleyball team.

On Wednesday, July 21, during a game with the El Paso Sol, two-bit beer night will be in vogue for the first time this year.

Last season, 25 cent beer night attracted a record attendance — more than 7,200. Wilt Chamberlain was on the opposing team — and that created some of the attendance.

Then, on Saturday, July 24, the Breakers will mark Fan Appreciation Night and everything— including tickets, peanuts, popcorn, beer, T-shirts, candy, and everything at the concession stands — will be half price. The Saturday game will be with Phoenix and its outstanding coach-player, Mary Joe Peppler.

Santa Barbara comes to town on the 30th and it will be Handicapped Night with all such persons admitted free of charge. It will also be Team Photo Night with team pictures to be given early in the evening so that they may be autographed.

As part of Team Photo Night, the management will have cameras available for those who prefer to take their own pictures.

Games will be at the Sports Arena starting at 7:30 p.m.

'Baseball Register' Replete With Facts

There's hardly anything that one would need to know about today's baseball players and their professional lives that cannot be found in "The Official 1976 BASEBALL REGISTER," unquestionably the most complete book of its kind.

More than 1000 players are listed, a great leap upward from the time when the volume was subtitled, "The Game's 400," a reference to the days when 16 teams of 25 players each added up to a figure that was not only socially, but athletically relevant.

The Register, an invaluable statistical aide to anyone who follows baseball on a more-than-casual basis, deals with everyone who was on a major league roster when spring training began, and editors Mike Douchant and Joe Marcin have included each athlete's minor league figures as well.

If names make news, well, there are 10 Johnsons to make it the most popular surname for major-leaguers.

Behind that figure are Jones (7), Smith (6) and Cruz, May, Moore and Scott (5 each).

The total statistical career of every active player, plus a handful of recently retired stars, managers, coaches and umpires, are listed in full and complete detail, with career highlights, trades and league-leading performances all carefully noted.

It is available at better bookstores or by mail from THE SPORTING NEWS, P.O. Box 56, St. Louis, MO 63166. Cost is $5 plus handling.

Bobby Sox Start Area Playoffs

The players on the S.V. team are Molly Dempsey, Mary Foy, Eva Shrader, Wendy Spitz, Alli Humphries, Karin Outram, Marci Savela, Kathy Bodie, Ellen Shoemaker, Cindy Howard, Elizabeth Reese, Daina Smith, Kris Warner, Diana Reese and Lorraine Sewell.

The alternates are Laura Yepiz, Sherry Wilds, Candy Schmidt, Laura Davis and Theresa Boitel.

In charge of leading the S.V. team to the trip are Nikki Flegle as the manager, Jack Eskridge and Eldon Calkins as the coaches and Pat Kellog as the chaperone.

Pincay, Top Jock Back at Del Mar

Laffitt Pincoy, Jr., three-time recipient of the coveted Eclipse Award as the nation's outstanding jockey, will compete throughout the Del Mar meeting on a full-time basis for the first time this season. The seaside track begins its 43-day summer meeting, July 28.

Since coming to America from his native Panama, Pincay, has recorded more than 2,500 victories in less than 10 years, while reigning as the nation's leading money-winning champion for five consecutive seasons, from 1970-1974.

His finest year was in 1971 when Pincay topped all North American jockeys in total victories (380) and total money earned ($3,784,377). In recognition of his accomplishments, he was voted the first Eclipse Award as the best rider in the country.

Couppee Stars At Guest Home Padres Party

Al Couppee, radio-television-sports personality, will top the program Friday July 23 at Skyline Terrace, a guest home at 2045 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove, according to Gary Miller, executive at the facility.

It will be "Padres Day" for the 100 or more residents of the Skyline Terrace with free hotdogs, peanuts, popcorn and pop for all who attend.

The program begins at 11 a.m. with Couppee, a confidant of many sports figures and a former football, boxing and baseball star in his own right, spinning yarns about famed athletes, past and present.

He will show a Padre film and present whatever baseball stars that are available on that date.

Miller said that the public is also invited — up to 100 can be handled comfortably.

It is the facility's annual seniors party. The telephone at Millers is 463-2828.

Patrol-Detectives In Extra Innings

Wonder what Ray Kroc would say about this game!

The score was 23-22 but it took 10 innings.

It was Sunday morning at Knapp field when officers of the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office engaged in the baseball fray.

The "Powerful Patrol" scored 14 runs in the first inning but the "Defective Detectives" were astute. Led by the artful hitting of two detectives—John Falconer and Tom Nelson, the Detecs tied it in the 9th. Patrol added two in the 10th and the best Detecs could dig up was a single run. That's how the game ended—23-22 favoring the Patrol.

Both teams made a lot of hits and a lot of errors. But it was Jim Wallis of Patrol who starred — gobbling up everything hit to centerfield in errorless fashion.

Lemon Grove Office Captain Hank Schilpp was umpire which may account for some errors being credited as base hits which made scorekeeping complicated, several members of the losing team averred.

Another sterling game is scheduled for Sunday at 8 a.m. —same place. In this game the "Powerful Patrol" faces the "CHP Cheepies."

Receiver Problem Eases For Prothro's Chargers

Finding wide receivers and linebackers were two of the top priorities for coach Tommy Prothro when summer training camp began for the San Diego Chargers at UC San Diego a week ago.

Now, Prothro's problem has changed from finding good players to selecting the best ones. With the arrival of the veterans on Monday, San Diego had seven wide receivers and 11 linebackers on an 81-man roster.

Prothro singled out the two positions for praise after the Chargers beat the Dallas Cowboys, 12-6, in a scrimmage played mainly by rookies at UC Irvine Saturday.

"I thought our receivers looked good and our linebackers looked good," said the coach. "But we expected them to look good."

Dallas coach Tom Landry also lauded the Charger receivers. "They've got a receiver or two who can catch the ball very well," was Landry's post-scrimmage comment.

McDonald Sparkles

Second-year pro Dwight McDonald and rookie John Tuttle each caught three passes against the Cowboys and Terry Lindsey from the WFL Sun caught two. McDonald caught a touchdown pass and Tuttle made a circus catch.

The Chargers have two other rookie receivers, Larry Dorsey and Artie Owens. A third-round draft choice from Tennessee State, Dorsey was the standout of rookie week before being tabbed for College All-Star team duty. He joined the Chargers' top two draft choices, running back Joe Washington from Oklahoma and guard Don Macek from Boston College, in Chicago for the game against the Pittsburgh Steelers on July 23.

Completing San Diego's receiving corps are ace veterans Gary Garrison, starting his 11th Charger season, and newcomer Charlie Joiner from the Cincinnati Bengals.

Prothro did not let a day pass last week without saying a good word about his young linebacking contingent of Mike Dennery, Drew Mahalic, Bob Horn, Larry Keller, Woodrow Lowe and Ray Preston.

A three-year vet, Dennery was acquired from the Oakland Raiders. Mahalic is starting his second Charger season. Horn is a No. 4 draft choice from Oregon State. Lowe, No. 5 from Alabama; Preston, No. 11 from Syracuse, and Keller, a No. 9 pick from Houston in 1975.

Five veteran linebackers checked in Monday. They are incumbent starters Don Goode and Tom Graham, former starters Charles Anthony and Floyd Rice and newcomer Rick Middleton, a starter at New Orleans last year.

$30,000 Motocross At L.A. Coliseum

LAGUNA BEACH—Defending AMA national motocross champions Tony DiStefano (Morrisville, Penn.) and Jimmy Weinert (Laguna Beach, Calif.) top a list of eight additional riders signed to compete in the upcoming $30,000 Oly Superbowl of Motocross at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum July 24 it was announced by event-promoter Mike Goodwin.

Kent Howerton (San Antonio, Texas), current leader in the 1976 national championship 500 cc series and second in the stadium motocross Supercross Series standings, has also signed.

The fifth-annual Oly Superbowl of Motocross, staged on a rugged, $100,000 track installed in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, is the final event in the AMA-sanctioned Supercross Series, a five-city circuit of motocross races staged in major stadiums across the U.S.

The Oly Superbowl will feature the three-moto, international 250cc finale of the five-event Supercross Series, as well as a 500cc three-moto national support race.

Wit Goes for Wark In Soccer Trade

The San Diego Jaws have obtained forward Doug Wark from the Tampa Bay Rowdies in exchange for midfielder Dennis Wit in a straight player-trade, general manager Paul Deese said.

Wark, a 5'10", 160 lb. left winger, is an established North American Soccer League player, having spent time with both Rochester Lancers and the Tampa Bay Rowdies.

An American, Wark owns the indoor soccer mark for the most goals in one game, when he potted six against the New York Cosmos in semifinal playoff action last year.

His indoor performance is the main objective of Jaws eyeing the possibility of indoor competition this fall.

To obtain Wark, the Jaws parted with another fine American prospect in midfielder Dennis Wit, a 6'2" hard-working 24 year old, who has played well this year.

Wark will be in uniform when the Jaws host the Los Angeles Aztecs at Aztec Bowl Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Aztec Hoop Sked Colored 'Tough'

S.D. State U. can claim one of the toughest schedules in college basketball . . . again.

This season there are seven teams that played in the NCAA Playoffs last year, seven teams that won 20 or more games last year and only three teams that finished below .500 in 1975-76.

The Aztecs open the season on November 26 against the UCLA Bruins in Pauley Pavillion. The Bruins were 27-5 last year and advanced to the NCAA Finals.

After that it's Northern Arizona at home, the Sun Devil Classic, Arizona in Tucson, Nevada (Las Vegas), Boise State, New Mexico in Albuquerque before hosting the first San Diego Holiday Tournament.

N. Arizona was 15-12 last year, Las Vegas 29-2 and played in the NCAA's, Arizona 24-9 and played in the NCAA's, Boise State 18-11 and played in the NCAA's, and New Mexico 16-11.

The Sun Devil Classic could be one of the top tournaments around with host Arizona State at 16-11, Oregon at 19-10, and Wichita State at 18-9. Wichita State went to the NCAA Playoffs last year.

The San Diego Tournament features Washington at 22-6 and an NCAA Playoff rep., Texas (El Paso) at 19-8 and La Salle at 11-15.

State Study Reveals Weakness in Work-study Habits, Knowledge of Gov't Among 7th Graders

California's first effort to measure what its seventh-grade students know about social studies found both weaknesses and strengths, Wilson Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, told the State Board of Education July 8.

"General areas of strength in student performance," Riles said, "were in appreciation of cultural diversity, values and the need for cooperative work with others.

"Serious weaknesses were found in work-study habits and in understanding the rights and responsibilities of citizens in our democratic society," Riles told the board members.

Two tests were given to 12,656 seventh grade students in 65 schools, a representative sample of all students in the state at that grade level.

One was a standard exam, developed by the California publisher. The second test was deveeloped by the California Social Studies Assessment Advisory Committee, a 38-member panel of social studies educators appointed by the State Department of Education.

On the national test, the score of the median California student was at the 36th percentile, below the national norm which is at the 50th percentile level.

Riles said the test results underscored the need to begin reforming California's junior and senior high schools.

"Indeed, the State Board of Education and the Department of Education have been advocating such a reform through California's plan for Reform of Intermediate and Secondary Education (RISE)," Riles said.

"The emphasis on individual instruction contained in the RISE plan would give our teachers a greater opportunity to correct weaknesses in academic skills before a student graduates," Riles said.

"This assessment shows areas where students need that extra help they would receieve under RISE," he added.

Legislation embodying RISE has won approval in the California Senate and will be up before the Assemebly Education Committee when lawmakers return to Sacramento from their summer recess. The bill is SB 1737, by Senator John Dunlap, D-Napa.

38% Define Constitution

In reviewing the results from its test, the committee was pleased that 88 per cent of the students recognized that "justice" means that "people are treateed fairly under the law." However, performance was judged in need of improvement when only 38 per cent recognized a "constitution" as "a set of rules on which the laws must be based."

Thirty-four per cent thought that a "constitution" is "all the laws and rules which people must obey." Fifteen per cent said it is "a group of people who make laws."

Only 24 per cent of the students accurately identified "the Chinese" as "an example of an ethnic group in the United States." Thirty-four per cent thought an ethnic group was "people on welfare" and 24 per cent said it was "all the people who live in the same town."

The students demonstrated more knowledge about the federal government than about California government, Riles said. They understood the main purpose of the Declaration of Independence, but they were less successful in demonstrating knowledge of the structure of government.

House of Justices

For example, in one item students were informed that Congress is made up of two parts and one part is the House of Representatives. When asked to identify the other part, only 48 per cent selected the Senate. Thirty-one per cent incorrectly identified the other part as the Supreme Court.

In another question, 33 per cent indicated that the State Supreme Court is "the branch of government which makes laws for the state of California."

On the other hand, when asked "which group can decide whether a law passed by the California Legislature agrees with the state constitution, "only 41 per cent accurately selected the State Supreme Court."

Twenty-five per cent thought that the State Senate performs this function; 23 per cent said it was the governor.

Less than one-half of the students (43 per cent) knew that government in the United States is a "representative democracy." Twenty-eight per cent selected "parliamentary government."

The students also showed a serious lack of understanding about the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, Riles said.

They were asked: "Do you feel that newspapers and magazines should be allowed to print things which you do not agree with?" Twenty-eight per cent said "no" and 22 per cent said they were "not sure."

Performance on most questions about Latin America was weak, Riles said. Twenty-four per cent of the students incorrectly identified Latin America as "a large nation," while only 53 per cent accurately identified it as a "region south of the United States."

Scores on the tests were slightly higher for girls than for boys, but the difference was not large. Students in suburban communities and medium-sized cities scored slightly higher than students in urban and rural communities.

The test program was developed by the State Department of Education in response to Assembly Concurrent Resolution 139 of the 1974 legislative session which asked for an assessment of student knowledge about social science.

Copies of the report, "An Assessment of Social Studies Learning of California Seveneth Grade Students," may be obtained from Publication Sales, P.O. Box 271, Sacramento, CA 95814, at a cost of 65 cents plus 6 per cent California sales tax.

Bonita Shelter For Local Use

The new animal shelter in Bonita was dedicated at a ceremony in June in which Supervisor Jim Bates, and Dept. of Animal Control Director James Gilshian took part.

The shelter, at 5821 Sweetwater rd., replaces the one in Spring Valley which was closed February 2.

The Bonita facility has been in use since Spring Valley's closed. The dedication was strictly ceremonial.

The new shelter will be used by all of the county but residents of Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, Encanto, Skyline, Paradise Hills, Valencia Park and Southcrest are expected to produce most of the activity.

The facility is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday and Sunday. The shelter which is operated by the San Diego County Department of Animal Control occupies a 6.7 acre site, and provides 150 kennels for dogs and 40 cages for cats.

Rabies Clinics

Low cost rabies vaccination clinics are held every Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the shelter and the personnel also provide referral information for low cost neutering of dogs and cats. Animal Control personnel are responsible for patroling and apprehending lost and stray dogs. Dog licenses may also be obtained at the shelter.

The facility, built at a cost of $560,932 will accept sick, old or unwanted dogs or other pets for humane disposal, at no cost to the owner, and will provide emergency care for lost, sick, or injured animals.

The shelter can be contacted at 263-7741.

The D.A. Squawks

Office of
The District Attorney
County of San Diego

Dear Editor,

As you may recall, we have previously discussed an article entitled, "How Your Local Friendly Burglar Is Protected From You". Since that telephone conversation I have endeavored to locate the case which you describe in that article. As a result of those efforts I have discovered that there was never such a case as you describe it. Further, there is not now, nor was there a San Diego County Deputy Sheriff Rickert. Your article appears to be a fabrication of bits and pieces of different cases involving distinctly different factual situations.

Your discussion in the article of the Ramey decision, the Chimel decision, and the purpose and the extent of a probationer's Fourth Amendment Waiver are incorrect, incomplete, and misleading.

Frankly, I was most surprised to learn that your article was, in fact, fictional; I had always assumed that an editor of a newspaper was required to be as accurate and complete as humanly possible. I surmise that in your zeal to foster your own particular viewpoint you can justify the article, but it appears to me that this is a disservice to your readers who have trust and confidence in both yourself and your paper.

Should you, in the future, have any inquiry regarding the operation of this office, I would be most pleased to answer any questions which you may have, to the extent that I am able to so do.

I think that you should realize that the prosecutor must also operate within the same legal constraints that are upon the officer. We cannot be separate in that function and duty.

Please feel free to call upon me at your convenience.

Very truly yours,
Edwin L. Miller, Jr.
District Attorney
William J. Howatt, Jr.
Supervising Deputy
District Attorney
El Cajon Branch Office

Editor's Note:

Supervising Deputy District Attorney William J. Howatt is to be commended for his two-months research following the publication (April 29) of the above mentioned material. A less dedicated public servant might have wasted that time researching a later article concerning the district attorney's office refusal to issue on police complaints regarding Thursday night car cruise visitors urinating on the sidewalks in downtown Lemon Grove.

Meanwhile, plans are afoot for a community fete for Deputy Rickert. It will be sponsored by the editor of this newspaper for John Rickert is no more imaginary than is Harvey, the character in Mary Chase's great play of the same name — but far more effective.

It is gratifying that Supervising D.A. Howatt's attention has been excited by this great detective's everyday problems and he, reportedly, has taken some steps to aid in the solution of them.

If and when the fete is held, it is hoped Supervising D.A. Howatt to be among the celebrants.

3 Firms Cited In Home Heating Business Fraud

Misleading advertising and unfair business practices are alleged of Residential Comfort Center, Inc. of San Diego, Lennox Industries and Central Federal Savings and Loan in a suit filed by the attorney general.

State Attorney General Evelle Younger asked the court for an injunction and civil penalties in the suit involving alleged misleading information regarding both the safety of wall heaters and warranty terms for its replacement.

Consumers with wall unit furnaces were falsely told that the units were "killers" and were thus induced to invest in a new heating system, the attorney general said.

Purchasers were also promised a 15-year warranty, but the contract which is finally signed contains only a one-year warranty. Physical changes were often made to a purchaser's home before the contract was signed, a violation of federal law.

The savings and loan firm was charged with being the primary financing agency, and with being so closely connected with the operation that it knew or should have known of the allegedly illegal procedures being used, Younger said.

Bike Fund Raiser This Month; Riders Choose Among Five Routes

The eighth annual San Diego Cyclethon benefiting three county charities, is held July 24.

Bike riders engage sponsors who make donations for miles or laps completed.

Proceeds are split among the three sponsoring agencies: the Heart Association, the Arthritis Foundation and American Youth Hostel.

Riders will compete for donated prizes including 10-speed Schwinn bikes, clock radios and racquetball racquets. All riders get free hot dogs and iron-on patches.

The event will be conducted on five separate routes in the county: Mission Bay, El Cajon, Chula Vista, San Dieguito and Coronado.

Riders should call 291-7454 to register.

Burglars Steal Candy From Baseball Stand

Candy and other goodies, valued at $46, were taken from the concession stand at the Lemon Grove Little League at the Monterey Heights County Park on July 1.

Mary J. Famberough of 2527 Pergl st., Lemon Grove, the stand manager, told sheriff's deputies that the thief jimmied a door and made the haul during the night when the stand was closed.

Two CB's Lost

Gary Manning Biggs, an ironworker, of 442 Paraiso st., Spring Valley, reported on June 30 that a thief took a CB radio from his pickup truck by entering by prying open a windwing.

The radio is valued at $139.

The same day, David Michael Reeder, USN, of Spring Valley, told officers his ROBY 23 ch. CB radio was taken from his auto while he was away.

Loot is $3,770

Spasmina L. Hill, of 2842 Crane st., Lemon Grove, told sheriff's deputies that a burglar had entered his residence by breaking a louvered window of the bathroom, and took cash, cameras, jewelry and sterling silver, all valued at $3,770.

The burglary occurred while Hill was away.

Purse Snatched

The trip to Pic 'N Save was costly to Eleanor I. Waller of 1420 Gowin st., Spring Valley, who left her purse in the shopping cart as she visited the Spring Valley Shopping Center store June 26.

She told sheriff's deputies that her purse contained $90 cash, her drivers' license and other personal ID's. The loss occurred when she turned from the cart to examine some merchandise.

LG Scoutmaster In N.M. for Training Class

Dick Seaney is currently participating in the volunteer training program at Philmont Scout Ranch in the Sangre de Cristo mountains of northeastern New Mexico.

Seaney is enrolled in the Scoutmaster Skills Conference which is part of a national training program organized by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Philmont Training Center.

Seaney serves as Scoutmaster in the San Diego Council which coordinates Scouting for young people in the area.

The conference attended by the Lemon Grove Scouter is one of nine that are offered to about 1500 volunteer Scout leaders this summer.

His wife, Barbara, and family are also at Philmont and will participate in a full program of activities offered for all age groups.

The summer of 1976 marks the 26th season for the Philmont Training Center.

TOP LION — Lester Cleer, a past president of the Lemon Grove Lions Club, receives from outgoing president Gary Sweet a plaque honoring him as "Lion of the Year."
Cleer received the trophy, which annually salutes the highest achieving club member, at an officers' installation ceremony at the Bahia Motor Hotel, June 19.
Among Cleer's achievements in the past year are co-chairing the White Cane Days drive, producing the club's news bulletin, coordinating the annual swap meet, and designing and building the club's float in the Old Time Days parade. The float won the President's Trophy this year. Last year, Cleer designed the parade's Sweepstakes winner.
"Working with Cleer made the year easier," retiring president Sweet said. "He is truly a dedicated Lion."

SDG&E Co. Looks to More Energy Conservation Promo

San Diego Gas & Electric Company is pressing ahead vigorously with its broad-based program to promote customer conservation of energy.

The company said it is placing strong emphasis on insulation of homes as a major means of eliminating energy waste caused by heat loss.

In addition, the company is continuing to use booklets, pamphlets and advertising messages showing customers how to eliminate or reduce wasteful uses of energy around the home, and is working closely with large commercial-industrial users of gas and electricity to effect the same reduction of energy waste in offices and factories.

On another front, the company is researching and testing conservation products such as water flow-restricting devices, night setback and positive-off thermostats, and devices to eliminate pilot lights on furnaces.

These devices, when installed, automatically reduce home energy waste without affecting the lifestyle of the resident.

The company also is conducting a program to test the marketability of solar energy products.

SDG&E started its energy conservation efforts five years ago. Since then, its efforts have led to a slow down of the trend of constantly increasing energy use per customer.

SDG&E said the average residential electric consumption, adjusted to reflect normal temperature conditions, reached a high of 5856 kilowatt hours per year in 1973, then fell off to 5648 kwhr. in 1974. In 1975 it increased slightly to 5667 kwhrs., a level still less than in 1972, when the average use was 5756.

The average residential consumption of natural gas, also adjusted to reflect normal temperature conditions, reached a high of 878 therms in 1973 and then fell to 780 therms in 1974. In 1975 the average customer usage of gas also advanced slightly to 782 therms.

Initially, SDG&E's conservation program consisted of television, radio and newspaper advertising messages. That effort was supplemented with an energy saving booklet.

Vets Eligible for Home Tax Discount

Veterans who failed to file for property tax exemptions by the April 15 deadline can still qualify for 80 per cent of the exemption if they file before December 1.

Recent legislation provides that an exemption of $800 or 80 per cent of the assessed value of their homes (whichever is lower) is granted by county assessors to qualifying veterans.

Vets should contact the county assessor, 236-3072, for procedures in making claims.

Supervisors Threaten American Dream—Kenrick

By Max Goodwin

The American Dream is fading—and the County Board of Supervisors is the expressway for its trip into limbo, said Walt Kenrick, candidate for the Board in the 2nd District in the November election.

The whole sociological spectrum of San Diego County is suffering, he notes.

"Our children do not have affordable places in which to live. A no-growth population scheme is driving residential property prices beyond the ability of the middleaged and middle income. Young families find it near impossible to obtain their own homes and set their roots in the community of their choice. Senior citizens are being driven from the homes they cherish—homes they bought and paid for during the years of their labor. These homes are often sold because the owners cannot pay taxes generated by the supervisors," Kenrick said.

"East county residents deserve something better. They should be represented by someone who will get their priorities in order. In some parts of the county it is fire protection. In others there is need for better police protection. The cost of a high crime rate and the cost of a complicated government has become a burden too great for most of the citizens to bear," Kenrick said.

Agency Level

He is particularly distressed by the "Agency Level of Government" concept. "For example," Kenrick said, "it costs about a $1/2 million a year for our Fiscal and Justice Agency. Elected officials have to go through this appointed agency to get to the board of supervisors. San Diego County is the only one of 58 counties in the state with such an agency. It can be cut!" he said.

Other elements of government can be simplified, Kenrick noted. "Ask any person who has been to county government with forms to be filled. He comes away feeling abused and frustrated. He feels he is doing the work he's paying county employees to do. County employees are equally frustrated by complicated and confusing forms," Kenrick added.

Jobs Come From Business

"Jobs must come from private enterprise; not from government. Government must reform itself in such a way that everybody who wants to work could be able to find a job. Examples of how government complications turned thousands of jobs away from San Diego County is well known.

"When movies and television producers attempted to move into San Diego, they were met with a complicated bureaucracy, red tape and delays (Remember "Harry O"?).

"When Fairchild sent its advance teams here with the idea of bringing their huge (and clean) operation into the county there was not even sufficient housing available for their advance team, much less for the people Fairchild would have employed. Bureaucratic delays, red-tape and complicated rules and regulations helped drive them to Orange County. About 4,000 jobs went down the tubes with that decision, Kenrick said.

Sign Ordinance Slapped

He also noted the foolishness of the supervisors' present sign ordinance. "Reasonable conformity with a long-range target could be useful. But the high-cost regulation by which an ordinance man takes a photograph, measures the size and placement of the sign from the photo, followed it with an unreasonably-high sign-tax bill seems to me to be an illegal use of power.

"We should encourage the types of business our community wants and needs without creating ridiculous obstacles.

"Red-tape, needless paper work, foolish and expensive regulations (such as the sign ordinance) all work against the honest business on whom so much depends in terms of jobs as well as taxes" Kenrick added.

"Crushing free enterprise with regulations, will, in the end, transfer the tax burden to the homeowner. Thus, all taxpayers, residential and business should be vitally concerned regarding the make-up of the Board of Supervisors when the election comes this fall," he concluded.

Kenrick is a sergeant assigned to the Sheriff's Communications Center.

Industrial Park For 41st-Market

The Market Street Industrial Park, an industrial and business park is being planned for 41st and Market in Southeast San Diego.

The city will offer special concessions to industries meeting certain hiring and training requirements.

There will be full-financed employee training through the Regional Employee Training Consortium available to most industries locating in the park. The federally-funded RETC program provides worker training at no cost to employers.

The 20-acre site will be developed into approximately 16.5 acres of usable space, including rail-served, industrial and multi-tenant space with first tenants anticipated by Spring of 1977.

CPO Granted $653,000

The County Comprehensive Planning Organization was approved a $653,800 grant in state and federal funds last week by the State Transportation Board.

The disbursement is among $7.1 million allocated during a July 9 meeting.

Subdivision Eyed For Spring Valley

The County of San Diego has received a draft environmental impact report (EIR) for a proposed project in Spring Valley.

The project Eastview Estates II proposes a rezoning from LC to R-1, R-1-A and R-1 (15) and a subdivision of 116 lots on a 58.7 acre parcel located north of Jamacha blvd. between Omega st. and Spring Glen lane in Spring Valley.

The draft EIR for this project is available for review at the County's Environmental Analysis Division, 9150 Chesapeake drive, San Diego and the Casa de Oro Library, 9628 Campo road, Spring Valley; the Spring Valley Library, 1034 Elkelton blvd., Spring Valley and the Lemon Grove Library at Olive and Pacific in Lemon Grove.

Comments on this draft must be submitted in writing to the Environmental Analysis Division by August 2, the telephone, 565-3927.

Some Gas, Electric Rates Drop; Not Here

The annual survey of customer density in fast growing areas ordered by the Public Utilities Commission will result this year in a rate reduction for about 2,100 gas customers and a $47,300 reduction for about 6,200 electric customers of San Diego Gas & Electric.

The savings come about because some existing rate areas will be enlarged, some new rate areas will be established and some existing rate areas will be up-graded to a low-rate zone.

Neither Lemon Grove nor Spring Valley are affected by the changes.

Swimmers' Laps at MV Aid Foundation

Swimmers in the area will join in the swim for breath on Saturday, July 17th. The Monte Vista pool in Spring Valley will be one of the nine sites for sponsored swimmers, covering laps to raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

At 8:30 a.m. volunteers will validate swimmers' lap cards and enter names for prizes. Each swimmer receives a participation award and a coupon for a sundae.

Sponsor sheets for swimmers can be obtained at the Monte Vista pool or at participating San Diego Dairy Queen stores.

AID GIVEN — The bottom view of a truck trailer graphically illustrates the problem. The overturn was at Willow Glen and Jamacha rds., east of Spring Valley. State Forestry worked about 15 minutes getting the driver, Dan Ethers unpinned from under the truck's steering wheel.
Recalling that the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District had acquired a "Jaws of Life" device earlier this year, a radio call dispatched the equipment and men to the scene. In four minutes the victim was freed, unscatched, according to L.G. Fire Marshal John Ott.
"Jaws" is a hydraulic device which spreads metal with great power. It was also used earlier this year on an auto incident in east Lemon Grove in which the car frame had to be opened by force to extricate the victim.
Before the device was acquired for about $5,000, it took an hour or more to free pinned victims. Once in place, "Jaws" does the job in minutes.

Employment Project Puts Aging Americans to Work

Some of California's largest taxpayers had their properties valued higher in June by the State Board of Equalization.

Iris Sankey, member, announced initial determinations of market values of the operating properties of the state's privately owned public utilities. If adopted, they would increase those values by 10.9 per cent, more than $2 billion over last year. Final determinations will be made and market values set by the Board in August.

Sankey defined operating properties as those used by the companies for utility purposes. Nonoperating properties owned by some of the companies have such varied uses as farming, grazing, commercial, and industrial enterprises.

The values announced may be appealed by the individual companies. The Board's final determination in August will be made in time for the values to be included in the assessment rolls of the counties. The assessment roll is used by county assessors in levying local taxes for the support of countries, cities, school districts, and various special districts.

San Diego Gas and Electric has an assessed market value of operating properties of $752 million. Pacific Telephone's assessment is $6.9 billion.
